

Sermon Notes:

the Real you; the God created you.

Discovering your purpose and destiny is a challenge when everything around us demands more time, more effort and more dedication than ever before.

Juggling your responsibilities in life and living will at times come to set itself up against that which God wants or calls us to. This delicate balancing act is one of the many reasons why we hesitate to embark on this journey! For some it might mean a price in comfort, for others a sacrifice of career or even culture. The reality is that we will have to sacrifice somewhere, something, in order to realign our focus and dedicate ourselves to the Kingdom of God's Task at hand for us.

The importance of our purpose is not a matter of achievement or success. Fulfilling your purpose for God and His kingdom is about everlasting life and to hear Him say: "well done faithful servant".

It is further a matter of your identity. Your purpose is not removed or separated from who you are. Your purpose is not What you do, but WHO YOU ARE! Being the real you is success regardless of the achievements or the outcome of your task! It is who you are. Discovering your purpose and embarking on that journey will bring you to the real you; the God created you.

This will guarantee inner peace and joy. This alone will bring you to the place of fulfillment, not from external achievements or successes, but rather from within you as the servant and friend of the Most High God. As a co-worker and brother of Jesus. As a co-inheritor of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords—Yahweh!
